Ogden After Hours for Teachers

All Teachers FREE with Pre-Registration!

Thursday, January 26, 2012

6:00 - 8:00 PM

Ogden Museum After Hours for Teachers presents a special event for metropolitan New Orleans area teachers! Learn about the Ogden Museum and how you can incorporate the museum into your curriculum.

The evening will include:

- lesson plans
- classroom resources
- hands-on activities
- great music by Dave Jordan & Friends* (Funk/Soul/R&B)

Did you know...? The Ogden Museum is always FREE to Orleans and Jefferson Parish Public Schools and is FREE to Louisiana residents on Thursdays.

For more information or to register for Teachers Night, please contact Ellen Balkin, Education Coordinator, at ebalkin@ogdenmuseum.org or 504.539.9608

* Bass player ... songwriter ... occasional guitar player ... armchair philosopher ... frontman and founder of the everlasting New Orleans roots/funk band Juice ... hardcore New Orleanian ... purveyor of good times and great music ... guardian of the groove ... All of the above can aptly describe Dave. For 14 years he has steered Juice from south Louisiana to all corners of the U.S., spreading the culture and vibe of New Orleans with a fierce dedication. Along the way, Juice has been named Best Emerging Funk/Soul/R&B Band, been nominated for Best Roots Rock band, and Best Roots Rock Record. They have been described by local media as a "supergroup" and "the personification of the New Orleans ethos." P.S. He will be releasing a new album at this show and it is his birthday.
